All of these tables are used to store information regarding one particular event, with each table containing a unique event ID. For example, A has an event ID of 1, B of 2 etc. I am trying to create a MYSQL db which can record each time the data in one table is updated, but I am having some difficulty since I am confused as to the best way to go about doing this. The format the data is stored in is a list of each table's unique ID followed by a list of data, so, for example, A's data might look like: 1 - data1, data2, data3 In addition, I would like for each update to trigger a record in a third table called 'update_log', which would contain (for example) the following data: A 1 0 B 2 1 C 3 2 My main query is the following. This takes the data from the three tables and combines it to give me the total: SELECT A.ID, B.ID, C.ID, (A.ID+B.ID+C.ID) FROM (
